NOTES FROM CORRESPONDENTS.

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May, 17.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

Ohio politics and the Presidency—all one and the same thing, as some people think—occupy a good deal of attention hereabout just now. John Sherman's trip west "to look after his fences" gave a fresh start to the speculations that have been rife for some time, and renews the talk of his candidacy for Governor. There is no sort of doubt that John is the Administration candidate for President in 1880, and failing in that, he wants to succeed Judge Thurman in the Senate. If he believes that his chances of success will be enhanced by running for Governor of Ohio, he will be the man, and the political straws point pretty strongly in that direction at present.

Despite all the Grant talk and the well laid plans of his strikers to work up a "spontaneous movement" in his favor, knowing ones admit that the present Secretary of the Treasury makes a stronger showing, when the time comes, than has been generally suspected. The South has been counted solid for Grant, but when it is known that all the Federal appointments in that section are held for Sherman's approval, and made strictly in his interests, experienced politicians will not be surprised to find the wily John in the nominating convention with a strong sprinkling of delegates from Dixie's land. Take this with Ohio and the Cameron influence in Pennsylvania, the Evans and Curtis influence to divide New York in his favor, and it will be seen that he will be a long ways from behind in the race. It is known that he could command unlimited supplies of money for the campaign, and some shrewd workers predict now that he will beat both Grant and Blaine in the convention.
The Senate proposes to look into the Kellogg case. It is not the intention, as I understand it, to decide between Kellogg and Spofford, as that issue is believed to have been settled. There is no sort of a doubt that Kellogg was admitted to his seat without the shadow of a legal title. The Legislature that elected him never had a legal existence, many of its pretended members having never been elected, and Packard, who signed his certificate, never was Governor, but the Senate, under Republican control, admitted him, and the Democrats will follow the lawless and arbitrary precedents of their opponents by turning him out. But the charges of bribery will be investigated, and if proven, he must have to step down and out, to make way for a new election. Kellogg is among the deepest and worst carpet-bag scoundrels the era of corrupt Radical rule gave to the country.
His crimes in connection with the last Presidential election ought to have juggled him for life. He has figured largely in the annals of the Senate during a series of years, but has never been elected Senator in his life, and it is to be hoped that this is the last he will ever be heard of. PHONO.

Caneyville—Its Resources, Commer- cial Interests, &c.

CANEYVILLE, May 10, 1879.

Editor Herald:

Caneyville is one of the best trading points on the P. and E. R. R. It is in the midst of a rich farming country and there is practically no end to its resources. There is always something to trade on—wheat, corn, oats, tobacco, ginseng, beawax, butter, eggs poultry walnut logs, hoop poles, staves, hogs cattle and many other products, too numerous to mention.
Great quantities of tobacco, walnut logs, staves, hogs and cattle, have been sold this spring, and money has been plentiful in consequence, and trade is reported brisk by all the merchants.

Messrs. Wilson & Bro., the rushing pushing, enterprising business men of the place, report their sales largely in excess of any former year. They have established a branch store at Fordville, Ohio county, and claim that trade is brisk over there, and that the resources of that locality and its people are similar in excellence to those of Caneyville.

Times are undoubtedly improving, not only in Grayson county, but also in Ohio and many other counties on the P. and E. R. R. The county is just now opening up and its wonderful resources being developed. Coal, walnut lumber, stave timber and its agricultural products, are attracting the attention of business men and capitalists, who are not afraid to risk their capital and experience.

Caneyville has always had the name of being a hard place. A pretty hard place as some people pleasantly say—when they think of its good beer, whisky, and of those who partake of those beverages. It got its hard name while the railroad was building.
Since that time it has settled down to as quiet and peaceable a town as any in Kentucky. There are no more respectable, peaceable and intelligent people, in the State than the citizens of Caneyville, and it's not a hard place any farther than that a few innocent, harmless, good natured fellows from the country come to town and act the clown occasionally, when they partake too freely of that well known beverage—whisky—which is found, not only in Caneyville, but all over civilization.

The citizens of Caneyville are as sober and industrious as are any in the land, and society is good if only properly organized. Many persons coming to Caneyville, complain about the state of society. They admit that the citizens of town are respectable, intelligent, and just as nice as they can be, but do not mingle with each other to be called real sociable.
There is undoubtedly the material for first-class, a No. 1, select society and sociability—all that is required is to put it into the proper shape, and the following intelligent and refined citizens of the town, are hereby appointed without further notice to set this very important matter pertaining to their happiness, at rights, viz: Messrs.

Bond, Blain Kennedy, Pirtle, Bates, Turpin, Barbers, Wilson, Tifford, Tarnes, McIntyre, Layman, Porter, Ekridge, all the wives and daughters, of the above named gentlemen, who are married, and the sweethearts of the young gentlemen who are not married—but hope to be in a short time. Among the latter class, we might place Jim Pirtle, Dan Bates, Frank Turpin, Ross Bond and John Hawes. J. T. Neal, a refined society young man, we regret to say, has left Caneyville, and accepted a very responsible position with Mr. L. F. Laff at Paducah, Kentucky. Mr. Mo-ris Wilson has also left to take charge of Wilson & Bro's. store at Fordville, but their places have been filled by Mr. John Hawes, of Hawesville, Ky., and Mr. Frank Turpin, of Beaver Dam.

Society is what is wanted in Caney-ville, and there are nice people enough in Caneyville to organize themselves into good society, and encourage and promote refinement among those less gifted or unfavorably situated. It is their duty to use the talents given them by an all wise God to put forth every effort to do good and make this poor life more satisfactory and pleasant to themselves and those around them. To elevate them and Caney-ville society to a high standard. It can be done and I trust will be done.
Friends, hold a meeting for that purpose, if you please—it will give you great pleasure in doing good. You want a Sabbath school. "Jesus Christ Came into the world to save the people of Caneyville," and if some of them do not know it, it is your duty to improve them. You should have public worship regularly, every Sabbath. It has a refining influence.
Religion is the basis of civilization, and refinement. You want a temperance society, a literary society, a sewing society, and a society for the purpose of doing good and encouraging sociability, kindness and usefulness, and not only Caneyville needs all these organizations, but many other places all over the land. A kindly, unselfish, Christian and sociable feeling should ever prevail, and all the little petty jealousy, gossip selfishness and the mean unsocial feeling, which often developes itself in small towns, should be completely banished. Refinement, intelligence, religion and usefulness will do it. Promote it! Promote it!
Unselfishness is happiness. "Kind words can never die." Improve the fleeting moments of this poor life, in preparing for a higher and more satisfactory existence, through a vast eternity in Heaven. There is room in Heaven for the people of Caneyville, and when their race is run, it is the wish of the writer, that each and every one of them will reach that haven of rest.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH MULLATTAN.

Hoover Hill Bash.

HOOVER HILL KY., May, 15.

Editor Herald:

Messrs. Grant Owen and Wm.
Huntory, two of the lively young gentlemen from Pleasant Ridge, spent last Saturday and Sunday with the scribbler of the lights. Come again boys, and we will go a fishing. Squirrels are becoming quite numerous in this vicinity, and we can't account for it unless they are "Imaginary birds."

It is reported that Pleasant Ridge can boast of her champion numble-peg and checker players. How is Buford on the questions?

A great many of our farmers are done planting corn. Wheat is looking fine since the rain. Oats not doing so well. The hogs are playing havoc with the tobacco beds in this section, not much will be set I presume.

Mr. D. Hicks formerly a resident of the lights, has recently retired to the farm of Mr. F. Crabtree, near Beda, leaving a little vacancy on Hoover Hill.

We notice an article in the Herald of the 30th from your correspondent "Soother," and a soother it was too.
This Buford refers in his communication to the changing of our nonde-plume, and comes in on the pepper sauce, but we suppose that the pepper was left off in case of an adulteration we could slip out and know nothing of it. Not exactly so, Mr. Soother, our idea was to add no pepper as long as our sauce was in good demand, exclusive of it. You will remember Mr.
Editor "Soother" was at that time signing his name Drum and would have gladly drummed for the Hoover hill enterprise had our business required such a representative, or one to make out returns.

Puerilis Gaudium could scarcely discern Why the patrons of Soother their sauce would return.
But till the people read that communication.

Few was knowing of the adulteration.
Though he would have us forget the "drum" he beat,
And don't want us to carve at the Buford meat.

Now Soother's ashamed as general inspecter,
And would have us serve as boss and director.

But the Hoover hill man had rather not degrade By becoming general boss of the pepper sauce trade.

Though we have thought over the matter and now believe That we could not tolerate the business with Soother nor Eve

Its true name it was formerly sauce.
But its not to be treated like Soother's kind of dross.

To our Puerilis Gaudium the blunium Soother adds,
A big word used by his ancestor dads But in Soother's own language it means perceive

To adulterate pepper sauce like Adam and Eve But to injure Soother's sauce trade was not the plan
The Bufordite, its true sauce he must test And make it a business to carefully invest Being aware of the adulteration we give Soother a blow To cover the deficiency and make the pepper sauce go.
But the way he thanks us for the favors we do Is to give us a "buster" in the language of Bruin,
But considering the source we bid Soother adieu, Success to our sweethearts and the pepper sauce too.

Thoughts as They Occur on the Corners.

No. 2.

We are continually boasting of our advancement in all the virtues and refinements of high life, and lamenting the ignorance and barbarism of the health-enemies—but ain't we a little too fast?
When the civil war broke out in Rome, between Caesar and Pompey, that heathen Cato, knowing that honest men would differ in their opinions, proposed that while the war lasted private property should be held sacred, and no man should be slain save in battle!!! But where was the priest or politician that proposed conducting our late Rebellion on any such Christian principles. No. Led on by the "cohesive attraction" of hatred, plunder, and rapine, they flooded the land with mourning, woe and desolation!!!

In days of old republican simplicity millions were considered a raza ade, but in these degenerate days of political patronage, shoddy contracts, rings and other rascalities, millions are have become as plenty as pigeons; but it is feared that when tried in the cru-cible of time, many of them will prove only a million of airs.

An Irishman was peering over a high cliff to see the young eagles, but they had flown and a frog was the only occupant, after indulging in loud exclamations of surprise, he apologized to his companion, saying "I was not wondering at the baste but how the d— it got there." How often do we see the human told in the eagles nest and wonder how the dounce he got there.

NURSERY men have the art of ingrafting into the sweetest crab tree, the most delicious fruit; would it not be well for the nursery men of our children, to discard some of the obsolete, and almost useless studies of our schools, and learn the art of ingrafting into some of their wild and vicious pupils higher principles of morality and honor.

SPEAKING OF PROFESSORS—Hail to the man who invented the word!!! Let quacks, mountebanks and the whole host of swindlers, unite and build him a monument!!! Professor is the invisible armor, covered with which swin-

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Hon. R. P. HOCKER, is a candidate for the Legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election August 1879.

Democratic State Ticket.

FOR GOVERNOR,
DR. LUKE P. BLACKBURN,
Of Jefferson County.
FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR, HON. JAS. E. CANTRILL, Of Scott County.
FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL,
P. W. HARDIN,
Of Mercer County.
FOR AUDITOR,
GEN. FAYETTE HEWITT,
Of Harlan County.
FOR TREASURER,
HON. J. W. TATE,
Of Franklin County.
FOR SUT. PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, PROF. J. DESHA PICKETT, Of Fayette County.
FOR REGISTER OF THE LAND OFFICE, CAPT. RALPH SHELTON, Of Nelson County.

Who-E-E, wasn't Hubbard and Porter Hudson mad last Saturday. Expect they quit the army too soon.

The McLean county Democrats held a primary election on Saturday, June 14th, to nominate a candidate for the Legislature. There are several aspirants, and a lively time is expected.

HON. WALTER EVANS, Republican candidate for Governor, will speak here on the 5th of June. We hope Judge Cook and Dr. Blackburn will enter their appearance, and let us have a jolly old three-cornered racket.

J. B. YOUNG, Deputy Sheriff of McLean county, took a lentic named Elijah Williams to the Anchorage Asylum yesterday, but he was refused admittance and the officer returned here last night, lodging him in jail, whence he will take him to-day to the asylum at Hopkinsville.—[Courier-Journal]

Mrs. ALICE HAWTHORNE MUDD, a lady well-known here, having won some literary celebrity, has announced herself as a candidate before the next Legislature for State Librarian. Mrs. Mudd is a widow with 2 children, and has many warm friends who will exert themselves in her behalf.—[Courier-Journal]

Mrs. Mudd is a lady of fine literary attainments and would grace the position.

Mr. Shultz Withdraws.

In consequence of business interests—prizing and shipping tobacco for the farmers—which prevents my making a canvass, and having to neglect the one or the other, and not wishing to neglect the interest of the farmers, which I have undertaken, and which they are depending upon me to attend to, and not being acquainted in a large portion of the county and hence not willing to make the race without a canvass, I have concluded it best to withdraw. I am very thankful to the many friends, who gave me encouragement and proffered me their support.

Very Respectfully,
ZEB W. SHULTZ.

Rally, Democrats!

Mr. Z. W. Shultz having withdrawn from the Legislative race, leaves the track clear to Hon. R. P. Hocker, who has served one term in the Legislature, with credit to himself and benefit to his constituency, and who will bring to his second term an experience which will make him, with his other qualifications, a useful member, and one of whom the good people of Ohio county may justly feel proud. Turn out then, Democrats to the primaries on Saturday the 31st, and to your county convention on next County Court day, and give Mr. Hocker a send-off, which will sweep like the besom of destruction over the venient Meador(s), and let us have that mileage question settled by the people, after a thorough airing on the stump.

Keep it Before the People.

That the Congress of the United States have no power to regulate elections held for the election of Representatives of Congress, or President or Vice President of the United States, by virtue of the Constitution of the United States, including the 12th, 14th and 15th Amendments. It has been so decided by the Supreme Court of the United States, since these Amendments were incorporated into the Constitution. This decision was made by Judges of the court, appointed by the Republican party. The control of the elections belong exclusively to the States, so say the said Judges. Then away with all interference in these elections by Federal soldiers or United States Marshals.

Democratic Convention.

The Democrats of Ohio county are called to meet in convention at the court-house in Hartford, on Monday, June 24, 1879, to nominate a candidate for Representative of Ohio county, in the next Legislature. The Democrats of the county are requested to meet at their respective voting places on Saturday May 31st, 1879, between 1 and 3 o'clock, P. M., and elect delegates to represent them in the County Convention, on the following Monday. The Committee earnestly request all Democrats of the county to attend their voting district meeting, and endeavor to select their best men as delegates, so that the labors of the County Convention will be successful.

J. E. FOGLE, E. D. WALKER, Secretary, Clm. Ex. Com.

HARTFORD, KY., May 19, 1879.

Hon. John S. Williams, United States Senator from Kentucky.

DEAR SIR:—The undersigned, your friends and admirers, of Hartford and vicinity, send you greeting for your excellent speech on the Army Bill, recently delivered in the United States Senate.

Your dignified, incisive, and logical presentation of facts, has fully realized the fondest hopes of your friends, and elicited encomiums from those who were doubtful as to your prudence and ability to meet the great National questions so soon thrust upon you after your entrance upon the Senatorial arena.

Wishing the star of your glory may ascend still higher, and burn even more brightly, we subscribe ourselves your friends and constituents.

W. B. Hayward, G. S. Fitzhugh, John P. Barrett, Thomas H. Hines, Jas. W. Ford, John E. Pendleton, J. L. Collins, E. D. Walker.

Republican Convention.

The convention met on Saturday, May 17, 1879, and was called to order by the chairman, R. P. Rowe. On motion, Mr. McIntyre was elected Secretary. After preliminary remarks by the Chairman, Messrs. Woodard and Woodward, the Resolutions by the State Convention of April 10, 1878, were endorsed.

The next business in order being nominations for a candidate for the Legislature, Messrs W. P. Renter, Dr. J. W. Meador, Melvin Taylor, David L. Smith and L. T. Cox were duly placed in nomination.

On motion, the following Resolution was unanimously adopted, viz:—

Resolved That who ever may be the choice of this Convention shall be the candidate of the Republican party of Ohio County for the Legislature, and that we promise and agree, individually and collectively, to support who may be nominated harmoniously and effectively.

W. C. Morton and Robert Duncan were appointed Tellers, who reported the following as the result of the first ballot, viz:—

W. P. Renter 7
Dr. J. W. Meador 43
Melvin Taylor 10
D. L. Smith 3
L. T. Cox 6

Dr. J. W. Meador, having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared the nominee, and upon motion of Esq. Taylor, the result was made unanimous.

After stirring speeches by Messrs. Woodard and Hubbard, the Convention adjourned sine die.

R. P. ROWE, Chairman.
M. MCINTYRE, Secretary.

Editor Herald:—Having assumed the point and bent my bow to suit the times, I will venture a few lines for the Herald to let you know that I am not dead "but sleepeth."

I will not weary your patience by commencing this letter after the mistaken notion of great many correspondents by giving you the biography of all the people in this vicinity. I could go on and tell you that Glennville is a nice place and J. H. Jackson does more work in his department (blacksmithing and wood work) than any other shop in this county, and gives more universal satisfaction with all than any body. I could also say that John Kigel is selling lots of goods, and listed more merchandise than any two stores in the county. I could state that Messrs Cox & Troutman, are building a large store house in Glennville, in which goods of some kind will be sold, and that it is a fact that we can beat the world with beautiful ladies—that we have the best and prettiest farming country, the best music, vocal and instrumental, and all sorts of nonsense, but as I plainly stated in the outset, I would not weary you, nor I won't.

Candidates for Legislative honors, thickened. We have in the field at this writing Dr. Howard, of Calhoun, Dr. Morehead, Johnathan Tanner, Mr. Rudy, and one or two others whose names we never learned. It will soon get warm for some of them.

Not much sickness here, and but few deaths. Drs. Lackland and Carpenter, stand sentry, which accounts for our salubrious neighborhood. Business is really better, and more work is being done in Glennville than any point I have visited.

We will have some fruit, such as apples, plums, &c., but no peaches. I notice that very nearly all of the blackberry bushes are dead.

Mr. James P. Mosely, of this place, has in his possession a very quaint porch which he purchased at the sale of Jesse Crow. Eighty-four years ago, Mr. Crow was murdered by a negro at what is called Crow's Pond in or near the year 1794. Jesse Crow was the father of Elijah Crow one of Ohio county's early representatives to the Legislature. This porch has not been used for thirty years.

Some of the gentlemen down this way are catching some fish, but don't make it a success.

Weather pleasant and spring like.

but we want rain, vegetation is at a stand still, and practical farmers say, unless we have rain in a few days, our oat crop will be a failure.

I see that you are making some magnificent premium offers, and that to without charging any entrance fee. This is magnanimous commendable, and should stimulate every person to improve his two staples, corn and tobacco, and subscribe for the Herald.

Centertown Cleanings.

The above named village is dead. He, die or it, expired April 2, 1879. It fills our hearts with unspeakable sadness to chronicle this, our great loss. But the strange part is, the death of one thing gave double life to another; for it is an indisputable fact, that Sedon is "alive and kicking."

There is a new spring band organized in the still breathing suburbs; and is, with the exception of A. S. Higgs, superior to the old one. That reminds us. Our associations with Mr. Higgs will long be retained in our memory, as a year of pleasure and improvement. We found him to be a scholar, a musician and altogether a gentleman. Success to him, as the wishes of a large number of friends here.

Croquet is being renewed. We also have a new game called archery. Uncle Billy Warden's beautiful grove is the principal sporting ground, but the young ladies with bows and arrows, together with Dr. Sanders and wife and several others, spend a day last week, practising. There are several experts in the club, especially among the ladies. Step down and try your hand in the use of the red man's weapon, and enjoy the hospitality of Uncle Billy. Capital is there too, and if he misses the mark, I will always think he has been amiss in his duty.

Spring is inching along, onions and lettuce are on the table. Corn planting is the topic of the day. The scarcity of this, our staple, is telling its own story. We are working for a large acreage and a larger yield.

Your Paradise correspondent spoke of the Mr. Martin. A young lady in this vicinity wishes to inform him that her home and heart was made glad by a visit from him, two weeks earlier. Hear what she has to say. "He came, but my house was not finished, and he left. I will be ready next spring, and perhaps I will catch him, but then Martins are so uncertain. They will come, inspect surroundings, sing and twitter, or talk and flatter, and you think you have them, when all at once, they unfold their wings, or mount their horse and are gone. Alas! poor fickle Martin.

The Point Pleasant-Island Station-Shacklet string band, was to have met at W. L. James' last Saturday night, but one of the members thought it paid better to get sick. Now Barnes, no play off, that old lady decided in your favor; she says you are a boss fiddler.

I expect there was a wedding in that buggy.

Geo. E. Rowe predicted there would be hail in April. George, run for some office, as a prophet, you are done.

We offer a premium to the young lady who will come to Jacob C. Ward's and excel Miss Laura Rowe in playing croquet, and being as fascinating generally.

Jim Killbro has paid for his farm, judging by what he said, when he purchased.

I learn that Mr. Sam Bishop, of this vicinity, has accepted a situation in Mr. R. P. Rowe's grocery. I sincerely hope he may be more successful as a clerk, than he was in his controversy with signumsquacy. There may not be a penman's convenient to lift the hoof of his back.

The latest news: Centertown was not killed, but stunned.

Give this place in the jolly old Herald, if you think it deserving. When Miss Sadie asks you who wrote from Centertown, tell her not to feel disappointed, for it was not a letter, but a simple

ACCOMPANY—MENT.

West Providence Pickings.

Editor Herald:—

We are having plenty of rain in this part of the county. Heavy rain-falls since the night of the 13th inst. Wheat, oats and grass look well. I think we will have a tolerably good apple crop. Some say we will have a good mast. Sheep, hogs and cattle are in a better condition since spring set in. Work stock in a very good condition notwithstanding the scarcity of corn. Tobacco plants are nearly all destroyed by the bug. A good portion of the tobacco lands will be put in corn.

Some of our farmers are sleeping by their little corn piles. Their corn has been leaving them during the stillly hours of night. Boys, you should not treat your corn so badly, as to give it cause to leave you.

On Saturday, May 10th, at West Providence church, Dr. J. S. Coleman read an essay on the "Evils of Annual Calls." This subject was assigned him by the Davies County Minister's and Deacon's Meeting, and the essay was read before said meeting which met in Owensboro, not long ago. It was such a true exhibit of West Providence church, that he was actually accused of having prepared it for the special occasion. On Sunday, he delivered an able discourse to a large and attentive audience, on "Church Unity." I hope his visit to West Providence will prove profitable.

We will soon have a flouring mill at Rockport. We are glad that that enterprising young man, Robt. Terrence, has undertaken what Rockport and vicinity have so long needed.

Old Uncle Philip Robertson is now over 77 years old, and has been living in sight of his present home near Pond Run church, for 75 years. Can that be beaten in the county or in the State?

Farmers have nearly finished planting corn the first time. But as fast as it comes through the surface, it is taken off by the abominable cut-worm. A good portion of the corn lands will be furrowed out and planted again. The worst of it is, the worms are here yet, waiting for the second planting.

GOODS AT YOUR OWN FIGURES.

"The House That Still Leads," Leading by a Greater Distance Than Ever Before.

L. ROSENBERG & RRO., are just now receiving a large and well selected stock of spring and summer goods. Great stocks of clothing, notions, dress goods, car loads of notions, heaps of domestic goods, calicoes by the case, ladies' hats in endless variety, ladies' and misses' hosiery, ladies' Misses' children's shoes, Gents shoes, boots and hats, without number, and all other goods in the dry goods line. All of these goods have been bought at the very lowest cash prices, and have been marked at the smallest possible margin of profit, and will be sold for cash, or country produce at cash prices. "One price only," is our motto. No trouble to show goods. We invite an inspection of our stock, feeling assured that we can duplicate any retail prices in this part of the world. It costs you nothing to come and see us.

Respectfully,

Editor Herald:—

I am like the lover who caused his "girl" to become angry by telling her he wanted to kiss her—always ready to mend matters by still wishing the same. Once or twice I have mentioned in letters to the Herald that I would be pleased, and my impression was, that the community in general would be to have Prof. Hayward teach school at this place next Fall. Two or three persons have made a few remarks about my so writing, and desire to know why I am interested, and why I prefer Prof. Hayward to Mr. P. E. Hocker, their preferring Mr. Hocker and considering him the best instructor in this part of the country.

I prefer Prof. Hayward because I consider him the best qualified teacher in this part of the State, and I do not know that he has a superior in the State. My opinion is formed from what I have heard learned men say, and from what I myself believe; although one of the distinguished(?) gentlemen who has freely spoken of this may be far my superior. He may be my superior in some things, and I know he is in one respect, which he is well aware of.

Another reason I prefer Prof. Hayward is, were he to take charge of the school, he would have twenty or twenty-five students from a distance. These parties would have to board, be clothed, etc., and would be of benefit to every business man in the place, and to farmers, because it would afford a more ready market for all of their produce. This place will never be built up until we have a good school and other things. We could have a large school here as well as South Carrollton, Hopkinsville, Russellville, Franklin, or any other town, if the people generally would take some interest. It is to the interest of every class of men to build up a first class school.

THOS. STEVENS.

So far as Mr. Hocker, I have nothing but the kindest feelings towards him. Have never spoken of him unkindly, have only said I did not believe he possessed the qualifications that Prof. Hayward does, nor do I suppose he claims to. He doubtless would like to teach the school, but never heard him utter one word on the subject; but he will, no doubt, coincide with me, that Hayward would build up a better school, and in a shorter time than himself.

Outside of Hayward I have no preference, just as soon Mr. Hocker would have it as any other.

I have not written this to have any controversy at all, and will not do so, but only to give my reason and that of many others why Prof. Hayward is the preference, if proper arrangements can be made with him. This is all I have to say on the subject, but still I want Hayward.

I guess I will have to make another explanation. A few weeks since, in one of my articles—I was brilliant as mine always are you know—I said if the people would go to work and not play so much there would be less complaint of hard times and we could have more money. I forgot the exact wording, but that was the meaning I intended to convey. A gentleman, and I hope friend of mine, accosted me on the street the other day and remarked that he came near answering me, as he construed the reading to apply particularly and exactly to the farmers. I told him I did not so intend it, and now say to others who are of my opinion, that I meant every person, not only farmers but all of every profession, myself included. In my communications I never intend to speak unkindly of any one and when persons so construe my words, they are mistaken. Every person does not read alike and some fail to watch punctuation points thereby giving the same words different construction. Nothing more on the two above subjects until I get further reports. Curse me all you want to gentlemen for it makes me of note and I love it—but for God's sake don't kick me.

The heavy rainfall last Wednesday was of great benefit and vegetation now looks prosperous. I still hear of rust on wheat, though some think the injury will be slight. In some neighborhoods the Hessian fly is causing much danger to the wheat. A great deal of wheat has turned yellow and has ceased to grow. If any one knows of any preventative to keep the fly from wheat, they should make it known.

Dr. J. S. Coleman entertained a crowded house full of people here yesterday with another of his able discourses from Matthew, tenth chapter, 29, 30 and 31 verses. He will preach for us again the 5th Sunday in June at 11 o'clock A. M.
